

Building Control Surveyor

Salary: up to £51,275 per annum (plus car allowance and mileage) with a generous pension contribution and potential for bonuses and performance related pay

Due to the retirement of one of our long-term surveyors an exciting opportunity has arisen for a Building Control Surveyor based in Cobham, Surrey. Elmbridge Building Control Services Limited is a Building Control Mutual, we are a staff owned company set up to provide the building control service on behalf of Elmbridge Borough Council.

With a strong portfolio of residential and commercial work, we offer an excellent opportunity to further your career by joining an innovative and forward thinking building control company.

We can offer you real job satisfaction, personal development and the support of a friendly, professional team.

We are ideally looking for a qualified building control surveyor with significant experience within a building control service who should be a full member of the RICS or CABE with evidence of continuous professional development and demonstrated competence in handling complex cases including enforcement cases.

You will be responsible carrying out day to day building control work as well as attending dangerous structure incidents. You should be able to think, plan and act with a creative approach to problem solving and delivery in demanding circumstances and with competing priorities.

We value the importance of career development and will fully support you to achieve and maintain a good level of CPD. The post is predominantly home based which allows a flexible approach to the provision of the service and we positively encourage ideas that could extend our range of services and improve the way our service can be delivered.

Please refer to the job description for further details of the role and expectations.

If you feel you have what it takes to fulfil this exciting and interesting role, we would like to hear from you. In return we can offer you a challenging and stimulating workload, in a friendly working environment with a successful team of staff.

For an informal discussion please contact Mark Webb, Chief Executive Officer on 01372 303266 or Darren O'Keeffe, Managing Director on 07931 914875.

Closing Date: 14th August 2020 (12 noon)
